USE OF SECLUSION AND RESTRAINT WITH STUDENTS

It is the policy of the Board of Directors to limit or prohibit the use of seclusion, physical, mechanical, or chemical restraint, and corporal punishment in the education and discipline of students to circumstances in which the strategy can be used safely in a manner that is in the best interests of the student and as defined in this policy.

A student shall not be isolated for more than thirty (30) minutes after the student stops the specific behavior for which seclusion was imposed or any other behavior for which seclusion would be an appropriate response according to this policy. If a student with a disability is placed in seclusion pursuant to a BIP or IEP, the time limitations identified in the BIP or IEP shall be determined and applied by the staff member immediately following placement of the student with a disability in seclusion.

Physical or mechanical restraint may be used on a student if an emergency requires the use of the restraint. As used here, “emergency” means circumstances in which a staff member reasonably believes that application of a restraint on the student is necessary in response to a physical risk of harm to the student or others.

Physical or mechanical restraint may be used to conduct a medical exam or treatment on a student that is necessary to diagnose or treat a suspected condition that is not diagnosed and treated could interfere with the student’s ability to receive the benefit of the student’s program of instruction or IEP.
A student shall be released from physically or mechanically restrained immediately upon the student's request or at the discretion of the superintendent, school nurse, administrator or any other individual who would observe the appropriate behavior of the restrained student and any other students who would observe the student's behavior.

If it is determined that the student is likely to result in serious bodily injury or death to the student or other students, the student's restraint shall cease.

If a mechanical restraint is used pursuant to this provision, the mechanical restraint shall be applied and supervised by a school
